Dear Alma Mater M .H. S.
Our school and our home and our guide to success
We'll remember with joy every day that we knew
When we lived with the spirit of you.
You have guided us all in the days of our youth;
You have taught us to walk in the ways of the truth;
We have learned to be loyal, courageous and true,
And to love in the spirit of you.
Though the years will go by and we're far, far away,
We will never forget this, our vow of today,
All through this life in each thing that we do,
We will live in the spirit of you.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Middleboro, Massachusetts

He who asks seriously the question of the truth that liberates, is already on his way to liberation. He may still be in the bondage of dogmatic self-assurance, but he has started to go away from it. He may still be in the bondage of cynical despair, but he has already started to emerge from it He may still be in the bondage of unconcern about the truth that matters, but his unconcern is already shaken. These people are of the truth and on their road to the truth.

On this road you will meet the liberating truth in many forms, but there is one in which it will not be met. You never will meet it in the form of propositions which you can learn or write down and take home. But you may encounter it in one sentence of a book or of a conversation or of a lecture, or even of a sermon. This sentence is not the truth, but it may open you up for the truth and it may liberate you from the bondage to opinions and prejeduces and conventions. Suddenly, true reality appears like the brightness of lightening in a formerly dark place. Or, slowly, true reality appears like a landscape when the fog becomes thinner and thinner and finally disappears. New darknesses, new fogs wil fall upon you; but you have experienced, at least once, the truth and the freedom given by the truth. Or you may be grasped by the truth in an encounter with a piece of nature - its beauty and its transitoriness; or in an encounter with a human being in friendship and estrangement, in love, in difference and hate; or in an encounter with yourself in a sudden insight into the hidden strivings of your soul, in disgust and even hate of yourself, in reconciliation with an acceptance of yourself.

In these encounters you may meet the true reality; the truth which liberates from illusions and false authorities, from enslaving anxieties, desires, and hostilities, from a wrong self-rejection and a wrong self affirmation.

And it may even happen that you are grasped by the picture and power of Him who is truth. There is no law that this must happen. Many at all times and in all places have encountered the true reality which is in Him without knowing His name - as He Himself said. They were of the truth and they recognized the truth, although they havenever seen Him who is the truth. And those who have seen Him, the Christian in all generations, have no guarantee that they participate in the truth which He is. Maybe they were not of the truth.

SUSAN HOCKING — VALEDICTORIAN

"We must realize we will always have something to learn, and that we may not always be right, but whether we are or whether we're not, there is always the possibility that we may profit from a situation, in that we may see those involved as they really are for the first time, and perhaps even see ourselves in a new light. Only in this way can we come to understand one another. However, we must be able to listen as well as criticize; we must accept judgement of ourselves if we insist on the judgement of others; we must expect infringement upon our rights if we do not observe the rights of others."

JANE LOGAN — CO-SALUTATORIAN

"During our school years, and actually all of our lives, we have been searching for the answers to many of our questions, and trying to decide with which beliefs we should agree or disagree. And now, when we are at the point where we must go out on our own, we know that the people we should respect and those we will have to depend on will be ourselves. We must do what we think is right no matter how much everyone around us disagrees."

NATALIE DERRICK — CO-SALUTATORIAN

"The individual should be more important than any organization. If we cannot communicate with others whose opinions differ from ours, how can we expect to solve political problems, for in essence governments are composed of individuals? If we all were to think of each other as human beings and then act accordingly we could communicate on an equal level, for although appearances may contest it, in reality we all possess the same need for other people.

I should like to leave you with these words from the musical production "Hair";

How can people have no feelings? How can they ignore their friends? Easy to be proud, Easy to say no. Especially people who care about strangers. Who say they care abour social injustice. Do you only care about the bleeding crowd? How about a needing friend?

TIMARON

1971
Memorial High School
Middleboro, Massachusetts

We have found, that where science has progressed the farthest, the mind has but regained from nature that which the mind put into nature.

We have found a strange footprint on the shores of the unknown.

We have devised profound theories,

one after another to account for its origin.

At last we have succeeded at reconstructing the creature that made the footprint. And lo! it is our own.

Sir Arthur Stanley Eddington

Editor's Message

The problems we face today are not so unlike those faced in the past. They may seem worse because our human thinking process, the ability to recognize true values, has not kept up with the tremendous advances in science and technology.

Thus, the human spirit appears to have lost some of its strength, to have weakened. We tend to put more emphasis on materialistic things than on people, others as well as ourselves. We lack the ability to put ourselves second and others first, to share with others our talents and good fortune. Perhaps the greatest problem we face as a result of man's failure to develop true values is the lack of understanding and communication between people.

We can build great cities and they will crumble; we can win decisive victories which will be forgotten; we can attempt to discover the limits of a limitless universe, but we must realize the human spirit is the most important part of life.

And so we come to the end of our high school days. We present the 1971 edition of TIMARON as a reminder of our years at Memorial High. I would like to thank my editorial board, our advisor, Miss Mary Ann Wiedl, and all the students, faculty, administration and others who have helped make this book what it is.

DEDIC

As the last graduating class of Memorial High School, we, the class of 1971, wish to express our sincere appreciation and respect for the school which, for 44 years has served as Middleboro High School. In the near future a new school will continue in the traditions of Memorial High for future generations.

Although Memorial high will no longer be a high school, but rather a junior high, to us, the class of 1971 and all other classes before us, it will remain OUR ALMA MATER.

ATION

It is also fitting that we dedicate our yearbook to our Chemistry teacher.

MR. H. LESLIE MUMFORD

It is with great admiration and sincerity that we, the class of 1971, dedicate our yearbook to you, Mr. Mumford.

In the past years you have shown understanding and friendship toward your students. Besides this, your sense of humor has made you well liked throughout the school. Our best wishes go with you in the future.

"In Charity
There Is No Excess."

Mr. Henry Burkland will long be remembered by the people of Middleboro, as a most kind and generous man.

He was born in Boston, educated in Boston public schools, and received his BS in Education and His Master's Degree from Bridgewater State College. He served as principal of the Bates Junior High School from 1928 to 1955 and as principal of the Henry B. Burkland Junior High School from 1956 to 1962, when he retired.

Mr. Burkland was also well known for his numerous civic activities. He will be greatly missed by all.

Principal's Message

Let patience be consonant with urge, inner-force resonant with prudence.
Your goals keep above the virtual,
each firm step a hold onto the real.
Be consumed by steadfast growth within,
needful rigor, zeal, and purpose so alloy.
Stature, form, and level achieved,
once possessed, forever retain.
Thus, harken to the words of Longfellow:
The heights by great men reached and kept
Were not attained by sudden flight,
But they, while their companions slept
Were toiling upward in the night.

Vice-Principal's Message

Pause to reflect upon this quotation from Sir Richard Steele, eminent British essayist, playwright and statesman:
"It is, methinks, a very melancholy consideration that a little negligence can spoil us, but great industry is necessary to improve us."

Joseph L. King, Vice Principal

Superintendent's Message

IT COULDN'T BE DONE

Somebody said that it couldn't be done,
But he with a chuckle replied
That "maybe it couldn't," but he would be one
Who wouldn't say so till he'd tried.
So he buckled right in with the trace of a grin
On his face. If he worried he hid it.
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and he did it.

Somebody scoffed: "Oh, you'll never do that;
At least no one has done it";
But he took off his coat and he took off his hat,
And the first thing we knew he'd begun it.
With a lift of his chin and a bit of a grin,
Without any doubting or quiddit,
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done,
There are thousands to prophesy failure;
There are thousands to point out to you, one by one,
The dangers that wait to assail you.
But just buckle in with a bit of grin,
Just take off your coat and go to it;
Just start to sing as you tackle the thing
That "cannot be done," and you'll do it.

Class Will

Norman leaves his unused razor to Mr. Johnson.
Mary Abele leaves all the Juniors the feeling of being a Senior next year.
Tony Andrade leaves his dirty shirt to Jeff Fisher.
Kathy leaves her band seat to the next "poor" clarinetist.
Cin and Julie leave Mr. Denise a peaceful look and a "Hubba Hubba".
Jackie leaves the football team with all its underclassmen and Mr. Callahan.
Greg leaves Greg Bartlett all those cold mornings to start and ride that bike.
Linda leaves Kathy Nourse to carry out the secret thumb handshake.
Mari leaves Mr. Brown a quiet bus during football season.
Pat Browne and the Mrs. Moore girls of today leave Mrs. Moore to the Mrs. Moore girls of tomorrow.
Debbie and Sally leave Mr. Zilonis another "zoo" to teach.
Kathy leaves still owing Mr. Brown a dollar.
Debbie leaves her dirty gymsuit and sneakers to Carrie.
Carrie leaves Jill one more year, but in a new school.
Barb leaves all the guys in Middleboro with tears in her eyes.
Peggy leaves four more Cordeiro's to come.
Frank leaves sharing a homeroom with "little" brother Jimmy.
Linda Daggett leaves her deep, low, and loud voice to the 1972 Pep Squad.
Kathy and Marybeth leave, giving Joe's car a rest.
Donna leaves 36 cents to Mr. Mumford for the breakage of one crucible.
Natalie leaves her field hockey jacket — with great sorrow.
Ted leaves his mops and brooms in the third floor attic of M.H.S.
Bob leaves "good times" in Acappella Choir to Batch, Donny, and Jimmy for next year.
Patty leaves Sue Smith a multi-colored, all purpose scarf.

The Class of '71 Remembers When . . .

Charleen came to school late thirteen days in a row.

Miss Dupee dissected the skunk.

Steve and Norman had short hair.

Band and Choir were held in the Grange Hall.

Mr. Antone, Mr. Warcho and Mrs. Hammond were on the faculty.

The J.V. football team played Abington two years ago.

The Softball team won its first game 21-16 after three years of defeat.

The Field Hockey Seniors were giving a surprise party and Mrs. Record surprised them first.

Diane walked into a house and crushed her nose.

The football game on Thanksgiving Day, 1968.

Mr. Sullivan walked into the girls' locker room by mistake.

We wore coats and gloves to class.

Some of those study halls.

Debbie Graham got a pen stuck in her mouth.

The fifth grade at Mayflower produced "The Cowboy on the Moon."

Computer programs and report cards were introduced to simplify matters.

Tony jammed Miss Roht's window.

Sophomores had to be truly outstanding to play on the Varsity of any sport.

JoJo and Tom gave their campaign speeches for class office.

Jim Correia's car caught fire, and he didn't know it, for a while.

Bob scored six points for the wrong team and we lost by two.

Paul was Middleboro's "yo-yo" champ.

And last, but not least, remember the Class of '71 as the last class to graduate from Memorial High School.

Our Vivacious Voices

The 1970-71 cheerleaders deserve special recognition. The captain is Mari Braddock, with Linda Walker as the co-captain. They bought new uniforms which are quite becoming with money they raised themselves by selling candy, having a cake sale, a carwash, and money from a dance sponsored for their benefit. The cheerleaders, along with the pep squad, put on a very good rally for the Thanksgiving game. The spirit and enthusiasm of the cheering squad is greatly appreciated by all who participated in football or basketball games, either as players or spectators.

Our Road Runners

The 1970 Cross-country team found itself in a rebuilding year. After winning the Old Colony League championship in 1969, there remained only four runners to build with in 1970. Five sophomores, running for the first time, and one junior who had run some as a freshman, along with the four runners left from the championship squad constituted the 1970 team. As a rebuilding year the season record was not outstanding with two wins and six losses in league competition. The team competed in the Old Colony League Meet and finished seventh of nine teams, as they did in the league standings. The team also competed in the Catholic Memorial Invitational Meet, the State Divisional Meet, and the South Shore Meet. The results of the last three meets were not favorable. At the end of the season, Dave Howes was elected captain of the team and Most Valuable Player. Dave also won a spot on the Old Colony League All Star Team.

Middleboro Pharmacy

The girls field hockey team worked hard through the 1970 season under the leadership of Varsity Coach Lovell, Co-Captains Gail Braga and Mari Braddock, and Junior Varsity Co-Captains Jamie McNeil and Diane DeCoursy. The season started off with both teams winning a scrimmage with Apponequet. The girls fought hard in the Old Colony league games with great spirit throughout the season. The season ended with a party for the senior players. They included: Mari Braddock, Gail Braga, Diane Card, Natalie Derrick, Kathy Dascoulias, Pam Woodburn, Maureen Lynch, Sue Rullo, Beverly Parsons, and Lynn Leonard, with the managers: Laurie Schofield and Janet Hussey.

Where the Action Is . . .

Despite some low scoring on the Sachems' behalf, the 1970 season saw much courage and fortitude by our players. The squad, led by Mike Mecke and Don Soule, helped to give the underclassmen invaluable knowledge during this rebuilding season. The seniors of the team include: Tony Andrade, John Barnicoat, Jim Correia, Don MacAulay, Mike Mecke, and John Parks.
